

Diwali 2020

Dear Friends of Mathematics,

May I wish you a Happy Diwali – and families too ! It is so good to have friends and family and good work waiting to be done. I feel so closely connected to India, where all my linear algebra books have been edited and typeset and developed over many, many years.

So many generous messages come from India and I appreciate them enormously – encouragement helps us all.

I am extremely happy about the start of Wellesley Publishers – to add printing and publishing to the editing and typesetting that have been so well done in India.

Diwali is a great time for celebration. The election of Joe Biden and Kamala Harris is another good reason. And we have mathematics to connect us in such a beautiful way.

Thank you

Gilbert Strang
